

Discover the Groundbreaking Bill Clinton Parameters 2000 that Revolutionized the Middle East Peace Process!

The Background

The Bill Clinton Parameters 2000 refers to a set of proposals put forward by then-President Bill Clinton during July 2000 to help resolve the Israeli-Palestinian conflict. This landmark initiative aimed at establishing a viable and lasting peace agreement between Israel and Palestine.

The Key Components

Clinton's parameters primarily focused on addressing the core issues at the heart of the conflict, including:

Obama's assault on Jerusalem's Western Wall: -- Bill Clinton's Parameters (2000): The Western Wall in Israel, the Temple Mount in Palestine --Obama's UNSC 2334 : both are in Palestine

- Jerusalem: The city's final status was to be negotiated, ensuring that it remains the capital of both Israel and Palestine, with Jewish and Arab neighborhoods to be under the respective sovereignty.

- Borders: Israel would withdraw from some occupied territories, leaving up to 95% of the West Bank under Palestinian control. In exchange, Palestine would make territorial swaps to accommodate Israeli settlements.
- Refugees: Palestinian refugees would have the right to return to a future Palestinian state but not to Israel. Compensation and acknowledgment of their suffering would be provided.

The Impact and Initial Reactions

The Bill Clinton Parameters 2000 sparked both hope and controversy among Israelis, Palestinians, and the international community. Israeli leaders, including Prime Minister Ehud Barak, were willing to make significant concessions for peace, but the proposals were met with skepticism and outright rejection from Palestinian leader Yasser Arafat.

Despite the initial roadblocks, the Clinton Parameters laid the groundwork for future negotiations and became a historical reference point for future peace initiatives in the region.

The Legacy and Ongoing Peace Process

While the negotiations in 2000 did not lead to a final agreement, the Bill Clinton Parameters remain a significant milestone in the pursuit of peace in the Middle East. Subsequent discussions and agreements, such as the 2003 Roadmap for Peace and the 2020 Abraham Accords, have referenced the parameters as a foundation for future progress.

Assessing the Parameters Today

More than two decades after their proposal, examining the Clinton Parameters provides valuable insights into the complex nature of the Israeli-Palestinian conflict. The unresolved issues regarding Jerusalem, borders, and refugees continue to pose challenges for achieving a comprehensive and lasting solution.

Critics argue that the parameters were fundamentally unbalanced, favoring Israeli interests and compromising Palestinian aspirations. However, supporters maintain that they represented a genuine attempt at compromise and recognized the importance of addressing both sides' concerns.

The Bill Clinton Parameters 2000 marked a pivotal moment in the quest for peace between Israel and Palestine. Although the proposals were not ultimately accepted, they shaped subsequent negotiations and set the stage for future peace initiatives. Understanding and analyzing these parameters is crucial for developing informed perspectives on the Middle East peace process and the challenges that lie ahead.

This book reveals Obama's role in the plot to take the Western Wall from Israel -The settlements occupy only 1.7% of the West Bank. The Obama administration lied about "massive settlement construction". By inventing the fake news of “massive settlement construction”, they created a false sense of urgency to justify the anti-Israel UNSC 2334 resolution.

-Obama's UNSC 2334 rules that “the establishment by Israel of settlements in the Palestinian territory occupied since 1967, including East Jerusalem, has no legal validity and constitutes a flagrant violation under international law” it rules that both the Temple Mount and the Western Wall are in “occupied Palestinian territory”

-In his autobiography Bill Clinton describes his parameters for a final status agreement (2000): “On territory, I recommended 94 to 96 percent of the West Bank for the Palestinians with a land swap from Israel of 1 to 3 percent, and an understanding that the land kept by Israel would include 80 percent of the settlers in blocs...On Jerusalem, I recommended that the Arab neighborhoods be in Palestine and the Jewish neighborhoods in Israel, and that the Palestinians should have sovereignty over the Temple Mount/Haram and the Israelis sovereignty over the Western Wall...When Arafat came to see me...he wanted Israel to have the Wailing Wall, because of its religious significance, but asserted that the remaining fifty feet of the Western Wall should go to the Palestinians. I told him he was wrong, that Israel should have the entire wall to protect itself from someone using one entrance of the tunnel that ran beneath the wall from damaging the remains of the temples beneath the Haram. The Old City has four quarters: Jewish, Muslim Christian, and Armenian. It was assumed that Palestine would get the Muslim and Christian quarters, with Israel getting the other two. Arafat argued that he should have a few blocks of the Armenian quarter because of the Christian churches there. I couldn't believe he was talking to me about this....I said these parameters were nonnegotiable and were the best I could do...Arafat's rejection of my proposal after Barak accepted it was an error of historic proportions..."

-Obama tried to portray UNSC 2334 as being about settlements but it is actually much more than that. If Obama just wanted to stop settlement growth, as he claims, why did he authorize a resolution that rules that both Jerusalem's Temple Mount and the Western Wall are "occupied Palestinian territory"? (While Clinton's parameters were that it is nonnegotiable that the Temple Mount would be in Palestine while the Western Wall would remain in Israel)

-A point by point comparison shows that there are major differences between Ytzhak Rabin's view on the Oslo Accords (1993, 1995), Bill Clinton's parameters for peace (2000) and Obama's UNSC 2334 (2016). This book presents a point by point comparison on Territory, Security, Jerusalem, Holy Sites, Refugees.

-Before UNSC 2334 the territories were "disputed", now they are "illegally occupied". Obama's UNSC 2334 turned Israel into a criminal State. Obama's UNSC 2334 has killed the Peace Process, there is nothing left to negotiate. The ICC will now impose a timeline for an Israeli withdrawal. The ICC will give Israel a choice: stay in the territories and be marginalized as a criminal State or withdraw from the territories and commit suicide. Obama's UNSC 2334 is a formula for Israel's destruction: If Israel withdraws from all the West Bank's land, Hamas will take over and attack Israel from the West Bank from as it does from Gaza.
