"An inspiring and informative read for anyone considering going into farming."
Robyn Rosenfeldt, Editor, Pip Australian Permaculture Magazine

Currently farming or dreaming of a tree change? Want to farm but don't know where to begin? Already farming but looking for fresh ideas? Researched and written especially for Australian farmers, this book will help you find your inner agripreneur.

Key questions answered include:

- Why farm?
- Have you got what it takes to be a farmer?
- How do you decide the what and where of farming?
- What ways can you value add your produce?
- How do you fast track your knowledge?
- What regulations do you need to be across?
- How do you market and sell your produce?
- What are the best ways to tap into agritourism?
- What might farming mean for your family?

Enjoy insights from producers of everything from beef to barramundi, saffron to sheep cheese, wine to walnuts. Take inspiration from market gardeners to macadamia growers, flower farmers to fruit growers, truffle growers to agritourism operators.

If you want to connect with the earth and make hay while the sun shines, this is the Australian small farming book for you.

More than a decade ago authors Andrew and Anna escaped the rat race to run their own race on a small farm that became an award winner...their only regret? Not having a book like this back then.

Review from Grass Roots Australia Magazine (Feb/Mar edition #245:

"Considering going into farming or maximising the land you have? This book is a must-read, with useful and practical information on how to get started and make it work. It covers everything from what to produce where, animal husbandry and value-adding, to regulations, marketing and tourism, and even balancing work and family. There's a wealth of practical advice in the profiles of established market gardeners and farmers such as Tammi Jonas from Jonai Farms."
