1. Crystal Mountain

Crystal Mountain Ski Resort, with its legendary vertical drops and challenging terrain, attracted thrill-seekers from near and far. Sadly, the resort shut its doors in the early 2000s due to financial constraints. However, you can still explore the remains of its slopes and imagine the exhilaration it once offered.

2. Santa's Workshop Ski Area

Yes, you read that right! Santa's Workshop Ski Area, nestled in the magical world of North Pole, New York, played host to both young and old. Ride along with Santa Claus on a chairlift or glide down the snowy slopes, while experiencing the enchantment of the holiday season. Although the ski area closed around 2001, the spirit of Christmas is still alive at Santa's Workshop.

3. Lake Placid Club

The Lake Placid Club, a renowned winter sports destination, was once a hub for skiing enthusiasts. Hosting multiple Olympic events, this prestigious club witnessed the triumphs of famous athletes. Today, you can discover the remnants of this historic ski area and imagine the thrill of competing on the same slopes as ski legends.

The Legacy Lives On: Modern Ski Resorts

While the lost ski areas of the Northern Adirondacks may have faded into the pages of history, new resorts have emerged to continue the region's skiing legacy. Here are a few destinations that offer incredible skiing and snowboarding experiences:

1. Whiteface Mountain Ski Resort

Whiteface Mountain, home to the 1980 Winter Olympics, stands tall as one of the most iconic ski resorts in the Adirondacks. With its picturesque trails, breathtaking views, and a vertical drop that will take your breath away, Whiteface Mountain is a must-visit for ski enthusiasts of all levels.

2. Gore Mountain Ski Resort

Known for its diverse terrain and 110 trails, Gore Mountain Ski Resort provides endless possibilities for adventure seekers. Whether you're a beginner or an expert, you'll find a trail suited to your skills. Experience the thrill of descending the mountain and create unforgettable memories.

3. Titus Mountain Family Ski Center

For those looking for a family-friendly ski resort, Titus Mountain Family Ski Center is the perfect choice. Nestled in the rolling hills of the Adirondacks, this resort offers a wide range of slopes, a welcoming atmosphere, and activities for all ages. It's the ultimate winter getaway for the whole family.

Some of the northern Adirondacks' most beloved ski areas have sadly not survived the test of time despite the pristine powder found from the High Peaks to the St. Lawrence. Even after hosting the Winter Olympics twice, Lake Placid hides fourteen abandoned ski areas. In the Whiteface area, the once-prosperous resort Paleface, or Bassett Mountain, succumbed after a series of bad winters. Juniper Hills was "the biggest little hill in the North Country" and welcomed families in the Northern Tier for more than fifteen years. Big Tupper in Tupper Lake and Otis Mountain in Elizabethtown defied the odds and were lovingly restored in recent years. Jeremy Davis of the New England/Northeast Lost Ski Areas Project rediscovers these lost trails and shares beloved memories of the people who skied on them.
