Unveiling the Hidden Agenda Behind Ottoman Jewish Historians

Rewriting History: The Distorted Narrative

Throughout history, there have been countless attempts to revise and manipulate historical events for various reasons. Today, we shed light on a shocking phenomenon where Ottoman Jewish historians have taken upon themselves to rewrite the narrative of the Armenian Genocide - one of the most horrendous crimes against humanity. As we delve into the details, prepare to be astonished and enraged by the audacity of these historians.

The Disturbing Denial: Unmasking Holocaust Trivializers

While the world acknowledges the atrocities committed during the Holocaust, it is disheartening to discover that there are individuals actively engaged in denying another genocide - the Armenian Genocide. These Ottoman Jewish historians downplay, minimize, and even negate the systematic extermination of over 1.5 million Armenians by the Ottoman Empire between 1915 and 1923. With fervent determination, they fabricate alternative narratives, creating a dangerous platform for denial and erasure.

The Conspiratorial Connection: Ottoman-Jewish Collaboration

Investigating the reasons behind such sinister revisionism, a clear pattern emerges - a deep-rooted connection between Ottoman Jewish historians and their Turkish counterparts. By rewriting history, these scholars attempt to strengthen the bond between the two communities, whitewashing painful past events that could hinder their political and cultural allegiances. Implicated in this conspiracy are powerful lobbies, international networks, and a disturbing denial of the suffering of the Armenian people.

An examination of why Jews promote a positive image of Ottomans and Turks while denying the Armenian genocide and the existence of antisemitism in Turkey.

Based on historical narrative, the Jews expelled from Spain in 1492 were embraced by the Ottoman Empire and then, later, protected from the Nazis during WWII. If we believe that Turks and Jews have lived in harmony for so long, then how can we believe that the Turks could have committed genocide against the Armenians?

Marc David Baer confronts these convictions and circumstances to reflect on what moral responsibility the descendants of the victims of one genocide have to the descendants of victims of another. Baer delves into the history of Muslim-Jewish relations in the Ottoman Empire and Turkey to find the origin of these myths. He aims to foster reconciliation between Jews, Muslims, and Christians, not only to face inconvenient historical facts but to confront, accept, and deal with them. By looking at the complexities of interreligious relations, Holocaust denial, genocide and ethnic cleansing, and confronting some long-standing historical stereotypes, Baer aims to tell a new history that goes against Turkish antisemitism and admits to the Armenian genocide.

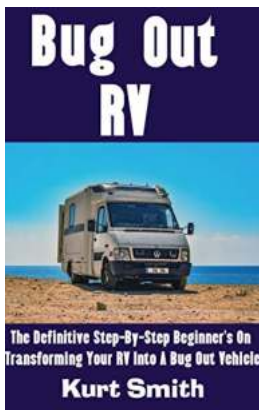

“[Baer] demonstrates not only his erudition and knowledge of the sources but his courage on confronting a major myth of Ottoman history and current Turkish politics: the tolerance and defense of Jews by the Ottoman and Turkish state.” — Ronald Grigor Suny, editor of A Question of Genocide

“A very significant study regarding the origins of violence and its denial in Turkey through the empirical study of not only antisemitism, but also its connection to genocide denial.” —Fatma Müge Göçek, author of The Transformation of Turkey
