The Strange Visit:

One fateful evening, as dusk settled over Point Pleasant, I found myself inexplicably drawn to the nearby woods. The air crackled with an eerie energy, unknown to me until that moment. Nervous excitement coursed through my veins as I stepped into the dense foliage, oblivious to the path I unknowingly embarked upon.

A sudden hush engulfed the surroundings, and a figure emerged from the shadows. It was Indrid Cold, a tall and slender being with a disconcerting grin that hinted at an otherworldly origin. His eyes held a mesmerizing quality, as if peering into the depths of my soul.

Conversing with the Enigmatic Entity:

During my encounter with Indrid Cold, I could feel a telepathic connection forming between us. Though his communication lacked traditional spoken words, his intentions were clear. Cold sought to broaden my understanding of the universe and our place within it.

Through our telepathic exchange, I learned that Cold was not an extraterrestrial as commonly believed, but a multi-dimensional being traversing the vast expanses of space and time. He spoke of cosmic truths and hinted at the possibility of parallel dimensions existing alongside our own.

Evidence and Skepticism:

As with any extraordinary claim, skepticism and doubt naturally arise. The existence of Indrid Cold has long been marred by controversy, with many dismissing him as an elaborate hoax or a figment of imaginative minds. However, numerous witnesses have come forward over the years, recounting their own encounters with this inexplicable being.

Furthermore, there have been documented incidents of unexplained phenomena linked to Cold's presence. These range from spontaneous electrical malfunctions to mysterious UFO sightings. Such patterns of strange occurrences add an intriguing layer of credibility to the enigma surrounding Indrid Cold.

Theories and Speculations:

The inexplicable nature of Indrid Cold has fueled countless theories and speculations about his origins and motivations. Some believe Cold to be an interdimensional traveler, while others perceive him as a guardian of Earth, ensuring the delicate balance between our reality and parallel worlds.

There are those who propose that Cold is merely a manifestation of the collective human consciousness, embodying our fears, hopes, and aspirations. According to this perspective, encounters with Indrid Cold serve as transformative experiences, challenging our understanding of reality.

My journey into the realm of Indrid Cold has left an indelible mark on my perception of the universe and our place within it. Whether Cold is a tangible being or a product of our collective imagination, the enigma he embodies continues to captivate and intrigue. The mysteries surrounding his origins and motives remain unsolved, awaiting further exploration and understanding.

So, is Indrid Cold a visitor from another dimension, an elaborate hoax, or a reflection of our deepest hopes and fears? The answer may forever elude us, but the journey to uncovering the truth behind this entity will undoubtedly be an exhilarating one.

New Saucerian Press proudly presents the "lost" ufological classic, "Visitors From Lanulos!" Initially published in 1971, this book became perhaps the rarest "contactee" book ever. Prior to its 2014 reissue, there were only a half-dozen copies remaining in the world's library system, with the rest trading for thousands of dollars each.

Woodrow Derenberger, the author of the book, claimed to have had a series of strange adventures beginning on November 2nd, 1966. While driving home from Parkersburg, West Virginia to his suburban home in Mineral Wells, he suddenly found the highway blocked by a large gray object. Someone emerged from the object and walked to the passenger side window of his car. The man introduced himself as "a searcher," and offered words of comfort to Derenberger.

After noting that he would come again, the "spaceman," who called himself "Indrid Cold," stepped back into the object and it rose out of sight. Derenberger went home and told his story to his wife. He then called the police and the press. Soon after, other witnesses came forward to say that they, too, had seen Cold talking to Derenberger by the side of the road. (In time, several locals would have their own encounters with Cold.)

Two days later while driving in his car, Derenberger began to receive telepathic communications from Cold, who described himself as from the "galaxy of Ganymede." Cold also supplied some information about his life, including the observation that people on his planet (Lanulos) lived to be 125 to 175 of our Earth years.

Over the next weeks, other stories would accumulate that substantiated other parts of Derenberger's story, including independent UFO sightings on November 4th. An initial investigation concluded that Derenberger was not a fraud or hoaxer, and was mentally and psychologically sound.

Throughout this period, Derenberger's direct contacts with Indrid Cold continued. He learned much about Cold's people and their desire for friendly contact. In 1967, Cold took Derenberger for a ride in his spaceship. Strangely, they visited the oilfields of Iraq and Afghanistan, as well as Cold's lush, jungle planet, which was populated by beautiful humanoids wearing no clothes.

Derenberger told his story frequently over the next few years, and his story was given extended treatment by Fortean researcher John A. Keel.

Through the 1980s, Derenberger assumed a low profile, though he continued to correspond with a small group of people who believed his accounts. In fact, he forwarded many letters from Cold to these fans. (Cold actually lived in a house in Midway, West Virginia before moving to Cleveland in the 1980s.)

In the years since, other evidence has been discovered pointing to Cold's possible intelligence connections, and the fact that he may have actually piloted an early aerial drone designed by the U.S. military.

Was there an underground flying saucer manufacturing plant near Woody's home, perhaps in Point Pleasant, home of the "Mothman?" Were Cold and his associates trying to bamboozle locals into thinking the military drones were from outer space? Or were they really interdimensional "Men in Black" or "spacemen?" Check out this fascinating read for clues both astounding and confounding.

This indispensable special edition of "Visitors From Lanulos" features s by John A. Keel and Taunia Derenberger-Bowman (Woody's daughter), an epilogue by the publisher, Andy Colvin, and a special addendum from Gray Barker. It also sports a beautiful and playful cover by British artist David Sankey.
