They say women can't help adoring the dark, tormented antihero.

And it's true.

Until they meet me.

One look into my blood-red eyes, and they run screaming.

I have darkness and torment aplenty. More than enough to dig my claws into the chest of a woman I'm in love with, and rip out her heart with my bare hands.

You see, I'm a different breed of antihero than you've likely ever come across...

My name is Kiev Novalic. I am a vampire, and a murderer.

Having betrayed the trust of my own kind and that of the enemies I sold myself to, I have three days left to live.

I stare at the girl in the cell opposite mine.

Mona, she calls herself. A witch born without magic.

She might be my key to freedom, but I should know to stay away.

I should know: some scars are etched too deep to heal.

Can you handle the red-eyed monster?

This is Book 1 of the completed A Shade of Kiev trilogy.
