Esther Huffman is in trouble, big trouble.
As a preacher's daughter, she is expected to be innocent and pure on her wedding day.

She fell for her childhood sweetheart, Timothy, and they were about to tell her father that they wished to marry when Tim is killed in a factory accident.

She cannot stop her tears of grief from flowing, and then, to top it all, she discovers she is with child from their liaison.

She tells her father, hoping he'll take pity on her - as the Bible says to do - but instead, he throws her out with only the clothes on her back.

Not knowing what else to do, she turns to a matchmaking service to find herself a future.

With their support, she travels to Ogallala, Nebraska to marry rancher James Holtzmann. But, being God-fearing, she knows it is only right to tell him the full truth of her situation - with disastrous results.

Can James see the good that is within Esther's heart and cover her with all the love and kindness she deserves?

Or, will she simply be thrown out once again, forced to look for love, forgiveness, and a future elsewhere?
