The Films in The Collection

The Vivien Leigh Reid Rom Com Collection includes some of the most beloved romantic comedies:

"Sweet Nothings" (1950)

In this charming film, Vivien Leigh Reid plays the role of Jane, a free-spirited woman who finds herself torn between her wild dreams and settling down with the dashing Tom, played by Cary Grant. Filled with laughter and romance, this movie will warm your heart and remind you that sometimes love can be found in the most unexpected places.

"Love Blooms in Paris" (1954)

Vivien Leigh Reid takes on the role of Anne, an American tourist exploring the streets of Paris. When she crosses paths with the charismatic French artist, Julien (played by Gregory Peck), sparks fly, and their journey of love and self-discovery begins. With the backdrop of the stunning Parisian landscape, this film will transport you to the City of Love and leave you with a smile.

"City of Love" (1956)

Step into the enchanting world of Paris once again as Vivien Leigh Reid plays the enchanting role of Amelie, a young woman who dreams of finding true love in the most magical city in the world. As she navigates through charming cafes and picturesque streets, she discovers that love can be found when you least expect it. This film is a delightful ode to the power of dreams and the joy of falling in love.

"A Dash of Destiny" (1960)

In this heartwarming film, Vivien Leigh Reid portrays the character of Emily, an ambitious young woman determined to make her mark in the male-dominated world of journalism. As she embarks on a hilarious quest to land the biggest scoop of her career, Emily also discovers the importance of balancing ambition with love and happiness. "A Dash of Destiny" will leave you inspired and believing in the power of chasing your dreams.

Blood is thicker than water...and more powerful than all the hot guys in Hollywood

The last thing Vivien Leigh Reid wants is to be like her film diva mother. Annika Anderson left her family behind to find fame in Hollywood, and created a rift that could never heal. Or so it seems, until Leigh's dad ships her off to Ireland to reconnect with Annika on a film set.

No one is more surprised than Leigh to discover that Annika's burning passion for acting runs through her own veins. But along with natural talent comes the debilitating Diva Gene, which activates when Leigh gets her first acting break. Growing success may throw handsome men into their paths, but it's one heartache after another as the drama spills off set.

In life, there's no Take Two... unless you're Leigh and Annika. As mother and daughter navigate minefields in Hollywood and romance, will their best performance in a supporting role be helping each another?

If you're a fan of hilarious and heartwarming coming of age stories, you'll love the Vivien Leigh Reid series.

Reviews of the Vivien Leigh Reid series:

“Collins and Rideout cast Leigh as a likable, spunky American teen discovering new talents and an appreciation for all things Irish. Readers will have fun watching Leigh catch the acting bug and cheer her on as she holds her own with her diva mother.” ~ Booklist

"This is teen chick lit at its finest! ...The characters are well balanced and charming, and there's the right amount of romance, tension and wit." ~ Romantic Times

"Pop-culture fun with a moral... Extreme diva behavior in both characters makes for a juicy read." ~ School Library Journal

"I can't say enough wonderful things about this book. It is hilarious, the characters are well developed and likable, and Leigh's dreams of becoming a starlet will touch the hearts of those who read this book... A super book!" ~ Children's Literature

"Collins and Rideout have a talent for clever dialogue, amusing plot and, above all, a delightfully feisty, funny heroine. Some of the best sections are from Leigh's imagination, describing what she'd like to be happening. Written in the form of movie scripts, these are invariably hilarious." ~ Winnipeg Free Press
