The Plot and Characters

"The Winter War" takes place during the titular conflict between Finland and the Soviet Union that occurred between November 1939 and March 1940. This war, also known as the Russo-Finnish War, was a result of territorial disputes and a desire to safeguard Finland's independence. The novel follows the journey of a courageous Finnish soldier, Erik, who finds himself torn between duty, love, and survival.

Erik is a relatable protagonist, with his fears, hopes, and dreams resonating deeply with readers. Through his eyes, we witness the harsh realities of war, the immense sacrifices made by soldiers, and the resilience they exhibit in the face of adversity. Erik's character development is nothing short of remarkable, as he transforms from an innocent young man to a battle-hardened soldier, all while attempting to uphold his principles and protect those he holds dear.

When the Soviet Union invades its tiny neighbor Finland in November 1939, Marko volunteers to help the war effort. Even though his leg was weakened by polio, he can ski well, and he becomes a messenger on the front line, skiing in white camouflage through the forests at night. The dark forest is terrifying, and so are the odds against the Finns: the Russians have 4 times as many soldiers and 30 times as many planes. They have 3000 tanks, while the Finns have 30. But a tank is no help in the snowy forest—a boy on skis is. And the Russians don't know winter the way the Finns do, or what tough guerrilla warriors the Finns are. Marko teams up with another messenger, Karl. Gradually Marko learns that Karl's whole family was killed by the Russians. And Karl has a secret—he's really Kaari, a girl who joined up to get revenge for her family's deaths.
